

BUS218N : Dynamics of Organizational Behavior

This course provides an overview of individual and group behavior within an organizational setting. Discussion topics include motivation, power, political behavior, team development, leadership, culture, and organizational constraints. Case studies are used to illustrate how theoretical models can be applied to various scenarios.

Credits 3