

ESOL083N : Listening, Speaking and Pronunciation

This course is for non-native speakers of English. The main focus is developing oral and aural communication skills. Goals for students include improving communication skills for school, work and daily life. Class activities will include oral journals, oral presentations, listening activities, and field studies. Credits do not count toward degree requirements.

Class Hours 3

Lab Hours 0 Credits 3