

HIST260N : History of Multiculturalism

A wide variety of cultural groups will be examined, probing the historical circumstances that motivated them to come to this country. How and why they have been able or unable to maintain an ethnic identification over the generations will be explored. Students will begin to develop an appreciation of the influence of one's cultural heritage and will gain a greater understanding of the cultural value, beliefs, and behaviors of members from different cultures.

Credits 3

Prerequisites

ENGL101N or ENGL110N.