

BIOL101N : Germs 101

This General Education science course introduces students to the fascinating, invisible. Microbial world we live in. Through a variety of hands-on projects, students will garner understanding of the importance of Microbes to life on Earth. Students will learn to see microbes as organisms, both harmful and beneficial. This course does not meet the requirements of Microbiology for the Nursing Program nor for Biology majors.

Class Hours 3

Lab Hours 2

Credits 4